Videotape Catalog

With Synopsis Guide of Selected Video Products

The Defense Equal Opportunity Management Institute's Media Services offer a wealth of audiovisual materials to enhance classroom studies. They maintain the master library of videotapes covering current and historical aspects of equal opportunity, leadership, and management. Major topical areas include: American stories, ethnic issues, religious issues, gender issues, communications, stress, training concepts, and harassment.

Many of the materials, such as videotapes of guest speakers, were produced at the institute. Others tapes were procured from other Department of Defense (DoD) agencies and civilian organizations throughout the United States.

The videotapes do not necessarily reflect the opinions of DEOMI or the DoD. They do, however, offer a variety of viewpoints students may face in the "real-world" military and civilian environment. As such, they are intended to broaden the viewer's perspectives.

The purpose of the synopsis guide is to provide a reference for video products currently available in the DEOMI inventory. The address listings are provided for internal informational purposes only and DEOMI is not responsible for its accuracy. DEOMI videotapes will not be reproduced or distributed for use by organizations or individuals outside DEOMI. Catalogs and video products may be requested from the individual vendors. Use the following references when looking for films not listed in this guide.

500 Nations

(8 Part Series)

Using Archival First-Hand Accounts, Location Filming, Virtual-Reality Recreations And More, The Spellbinding Miniseries 500 Nations Brings That History To The Forefront.

1995 Warner Home Video, A Time Warner Entertainment Company, 4000 Warner Blvd., Burbank Ca 91522

Volume 1: The Ancestors

(49:00 Min) The Ancestors Explores Three Stunning Early Cultures Of North America. The Anasazi Transform The Arid Southwest And Construct The Imposing 800-Room Pueblo Bonio, Depicted Inside And Out Via Computer Animation. At Mesa Verde, Cliff Palace Provides A Glimpse Into A Prospering Society. Near Present-Day St. Louis Is Bustling Cahokia, The Largest City In The U.S. Before 1800 -- Yet Few Have Ever Heard Of This Fascinating Realm.

Volume 2: Mexico

(49:00 Min) The Indians Of Central Mexico And Dramatic Eyewitness Accounts Of The Aztec- Spanish War Highlight This Volume. A Series Of Conflicts Solidifies The Power Of The Toltecs Fir Centuries In The Valley Of Mexico. By 1300 Ad, A Conquering Nomadic People -- Who Would Become The Aztecs--Arrive In The Area. Their Majestic City Tenochtitlan Becomes The Center Of An Empire And The Objective Of Cortez, Who Sinks His Ships In The Harbor So His Men Cannot Turn Back From The Fight.

Volume 3: Clash Of Cultures

(49:00 Min) Native Peoples Confront Spanish Expeditions Into The Caribbean And The Southeastern U.S. In This Volume. On Hispaniola, Indian Overtures Of Friendship And Commerce Run Around Against The Outsiders Belief That Wealth Belongs To Those Strong Enough To Take It. Conflict Erupts, And The Names Of Guacanagari, Enrique, And The Female Leader Anacauna Are Emblazoned Across A Tapestry Of Heroics And Tragedy. Inhabitants In Florida And The Mississippi Valley Also Confront An Intractable Force: The Conquistadors Of Hernando De Soto. Timicua, Coosa And More Nations Defy A Plundering Advance That Subjects Them To Two Unconquerable Weapons: Muskets And Disease.

Volume 4: Invasion Of The Coast

(49:00 Min) Names And Events Ingrained In Our National Fabric Are Viewed From A New Perspective In This Volume. The Program Opens In The Arctic, Where The Search For A Northwest Passage Direly Impacts The Inuit People. At Jamestown, The Story Of The Powhatan Princess, Pochahontas Unfolds. Did Pochahontas Really Save Captain John Smith? The Evidence Says Otherwise. At Plymouth, Wampanoagas Introduce Pilgrims To A Harvest Celebration: Thanksgiving. But Harmony Ultimately Turns To Hostility. Enraged By Colonial Expansion And Puritan In Tolerance, Massasoit's Son Leads The Bloodiest Of All Colonial Indian Wars In 1675.

Volume 5: Cauldron Of War

(49:00 Min) Europe Fights For Control Of American Resources, Turning Indian Homelands Into A Cauldron Of War. Many Indigenous Nations Side With The Trade-Oriented French Rather Than The Land - Claiming English In The Fierce French And Indian War. When The Defeated French Withdraw From The Ohio Valley And Leave Their Indian Allies Vulnerable, A Determined Leader Rises To Prominence Pontiac. A Decade After Pontiac's War, The Colonies Assert Their Right To Form A Democracy In A Revolution That, Ironically, Splinters The Demographic Iroquois Nation.

Volume 6: Removal

(49:00 Min) Tales Of Tragedy And Heroism Unfold. Shawnee Leader Tecumseh Challenges The Tide Of History, Sparking A Return To Tradition Always And Seizing Upon The War 1812 As The Means To Restore Indian Sovereignty. In 1830 The Indian Removal Act Becomes Law. Many Tribes Stoically Accept Its Decree. Others Resist. In A Dramatic Showdown, Tsali Bargains His Life For The Fate Of His Cherokee People--And For A Smoky Mountains Homeland That Exists To This Day.

Volume 7: Roads Across The Plains

(49:00 Min) "Horse Culture" Nations Increasingly Face Subjugation Or Annihilation. Black Kettle And White Antelope, Honored By President Lincoln; Pursue A Path Of Peace That Meets With Tragedy At Sand Creek. The Treacherous

Massacre There By Col. Chivington's Militia Has Repercussions Across The Plains, And Sitting Bull, Crazy Horse And Other Leaders Head Fierce Pockets Of Resistance To Resettlement.

Volume 8: Attack On Culture

(49:00 Min) This Volume Explores The Legislative Attack On Native Ways, Including The Disbanding Of Communal Land. Reservations Are Divided Into 160-Acre Parcels That Are Offered To Individual Indians: The Remaining Vast Expanses Are Sold. In 1889, The Oklahoma Land Rush Grabs Up Remnant Land That Decades Before Was Given To The "Civilized Tribes" As A Perpetual Home. Today, The Renewal Of Native Cultures Provides A Vital Reminder Of The Glory Of America's Original People And The Hardships The Endured.

Ethnic Notions

(57:00 Min) This Video Is The Award Winning Documentary Which Takes Viewers On A Disturbing Voyage Through American History. It Traces For The First Time The Evolution Of The Deeply Rooted Stereotypes , Which Have Fueled Anti-Black Prejudice. Loyal Toms, Carefree Sambos, Faithful Mammies, Grinning Coons, Savage Brutes, And Wide- Eyed Pickaninnies Roll Across The Screen In Cartoons \, Feature Films, Popular Songs, Advertisements, Household Artifacts, Even Children's Rhymes. These Dehumanizing Caricatures Permeated Popular Culture From The 1820's To The Civil Rights Era And Implanted Themselves Deep In The American Psyche. Narration By Ester Rolle And Commentary By Respected Scholars Shed Light On The Origins And Devastating Consequences Of This 150-Year-Long Parade Of Bigotry.

Episode 1, Awakenings (1954-56)

(60:00 Min) Awakenings" Focuses On The Catalytic Events Of 1954-56. The Mississippi Lynching Of 14 Year-Old Emmett Till Led To A Widely Publicized Trial Where A Courageous Black Man Took The Stand And Accused Two White Men Of Murder In Montgomery, Alabama, Rosa Parks Refused To Yield Her Bus Seat To A White Man And Triggered A Yearlong Boycott That Resulted In The Desegregation Of Public Busses. Ordinary Citizens And Local Leaders Joined The Black Struggle For Freedom. The Southern Christian Leadership Conference Was Formed. In Response, Many White Southerners Closed Ranks In Opposition To The Burgeoning Black Rights Movement. Racial Discrimination Finally Became A Political Issue.

Episode 2, Fighting Back (1957-62)

(60:00 Min) "Fighting Back" Follows The Struggle For Equality From The Schoolroom To The Courtroom And Back As Blacks Reject The Existing System Of "Separate But Equal" Education. In 1954, The Supreme Court Also Rejected The System In Its Historic Brown Vs. Board Of Education Decision. The Legal Battle Won, In 1957 Nine Black Teenagers Dared To Integrate Little Rock's Central High School. In 1962, A Resolute James Meredith Enrolls At The University Of Mississippi. Students, Parents And Lawyers Unite To Guarantee A Better Future For Their Children.

Episode 3, Ain't Scared Of Your Jails \(1960-61\)

(60:00 Min) "Ain't Scared Of Your Jails", Chronicles The Courage Displayed By Thousands Of Young People And College Students Who Joined The Ranks Of The Movement, And Gave It New Direction. In 1960, Lunch Counter Sit-Ins Spread Across The South, Many Organized By The New, Energetic Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. In 1961, On The Freedom Rides, Many Young People Faced Violence And Defied Death Threats As They Labored To Obliterate Segregation In Interstate Bus Travel Below The Mason-Dixon Line. The Growing Movement Toward Racial Equality Influenced The 1960 Presidential Campaign And Federal Versus State's Rights Became An Issue.

Episode 4, No Easy Walk \(1962-66\)

(60:00 Min.) "No Easy Walk" Explores A Crucial Phase In The Civil Rights Movement : The Emergence Of Mass Demonstrations And Marches As A Powerful Protest Vehicle. In Albany, Georgia Police Chief Laurie Pritchett Challenged Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.'S Tactics Of Nonviolent Mass Demonstration. In Birmingham, Alabama, School Children Steadfastly Marched Against The Violent Spray Of Fire Hoses And Were Jailed As A Result. The Triumphant 1963 March On Washington D.C. Captured Worldwide Attention And Garnered Broad National Support, Helping To Shift Federal Policy.

Episode 5, Mississippi : Is This America?

(60:00 Min) "Mississippi : Is This America?" Focuses On The Extraordinary Personal Risks Faced By Ordinary Citizens As They Assumed Responsibility For Social Change, Particularly During The 1962-64 Voting Rights Campaign In Mississippi. The State Became A Testing Ground Of Constitutional Principles As Civil Rights Activists Concentrated Their Energy On The Right To Work. White Resistance To The Sharing Of Political Power Clashed With The Strong Determination Of Movement Leaders To Bring Mississippi Blacks To The Ballot Box. In Freedom Summer 1964, Tension Between White Resistance And Movement Activists Climaxed In The Tragic Murder Of Three Young Civil Rights Workers.

Episode 6, Bridge To Freedom\(1965\)

(60:00 Min) In The Final Episode, "Bridge To Freedom," The Lessons Of A Decade Are Brought To Bear In The Climatic 1965 March From Selma To Montgomery, Alabama, When Thousands Joined Together To March Fifty Miles For Freedom. During The Drive To Make Voting Rights A National Issue, Strategic And Ideological Differences Began To Surface Between Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'S Scl And The Younger Activists Of Sncc. As White "Backlash" And Segregationist Resistance Intensified, President Lyndon B. Johnson Promised To Further The Movement's Legislative Goals. Then, As The Movement Began To Splinter Into Factions, The Voting Rights Act Became Federal Law.

Skin Deep

(53.25 Min) This Film Was Produced In Response To The Growing Wave Of Racial Hatred And Violence In This Country. It Was Made Out Of The Belief That Talking About Racial Issues, Both In Interracial Dialogue And In Homogeneous Groups, Is A Necessary First Step Towards Taking Action To Undo The Racial Inequities That Permeate Our Institutions And Communities And That Affect Us All Deeply As Individuals. The Film Was Designed To Stimulate That Dialogue And The

Straight Talking, The Art Of Assertiveness

(28:00 Min) In This Program, John Cleese Shows The Techniques Of Assertive Behavior In A Series Of Settings. He Starts By Showing How Submissive Behavior And Hesitancy Mean That A Person’s Point Of View Is Ignored. Rights Are Neglected, Resentment Builds Up, And People Lose Their Confidence And Become De-Motivated. As Subsequent Scenes Indicate, Aggressive Behavior Is No Better. Aggressors May Appear To Get Their Way, But They Don’t Win Cooperation. The Balance Between Submission And Aggression Is Assertiveness. This Humorous Program Lays The Groundwork For Developing Assertiveness As The Best Chance For Arriving At Mutually Satisfying Solutions.
